Mayors Message

Council is committed to improving accessibility across our community. This includes how people access information, buildings, public spaces, and their overall experience.

Council's aim is to provide an accessible and inclusive environment which supports people with disabilities to participate fully in our community.

The Community Access and Inclusion Plan 2019-2022 sets out Council's measures to help achieve this over the next three years.

It is recognised that there are various social and physical barriers that people with disabilities experience. This plan informs the Rural City of Wangaratta's ongoing work to build an inclusive community, by focusing on four key themes:

1. Inclusion and participation
2. Communication and Engagement
3. Civic Leadership and Attitudes
4. Physical Environments.

This is a thorough plan that has been well researched and considered. I look forward to seeing its recommendations implemented over the years to come.

Introduction

Access and inclusion is fundamental to creating a healthy and cohesive community, where all community members are able to be involved in social, cultural and political life.

The Rural City of Wangaratta has developed the Community Access and Inclusion Plan 2019-2022 (the “CAIP”) which outlines objectives and actions to continue improving access and inclusion for people of all abilities within the municipality.

The CAIP primarily refers to a person with lived experience of disability, but it also considers the benefit accessibility has for the broader community, including the elderly and parents with young children.

When delivering the CAIP’s actions the Rural City of Wangaratta (RCoW) will have various roles, with some actions requiring resource allocation through Council’s annual budget process, and other actions being achieved through councils ongoing projects, program delivery of infrastructure upgrades and developments as well as active advocacy and lobbying by council..

Community Overview

According to the Australian Bureau of Statistics (2016) , almost 1 in 5 people in Victoria identify as having some form of disability, with numbers higher in regional areas.

The Wangaratta Community Profile published by the Department of Health and Human Services (2015) indicates that 5.7% of our community, or 1,623 people, have some form of disability, with 4.7% of people having profound disability. People aged 15 - 44 years are under-represented relative to the state average while people aged 45+ years are over-represented. Approximately 14.9% of people living in Wangaratta receive disability support services compared to the state average of 8.9%.

79.6% of people in the Rural City of Wangaratta rate their community as good or very good for community support groups, which is higher than the state average of 61.3%.

Principals

The collective experiences of people with disability demonstrate that it is not just disability itself that makes life difficult. It is the physical and attitudinal barriers that society imposes because of disability.

The objectives and actions contained in this plan are underpinned by a range of principles that reflect council's values and commitment to enhance the quality of life for all people in our community.

These principles are:

Social inclusion	All members of our community have the right to feel valued and have the opportunity to participate in community life.
Human rights and social justice	People have the right to be respected and treated equally. Equality must also be combined with social justice principles to recognise and reduce the barriers in society that cause discrimination of marginalised groups.
Diversity	People with disability, their families and carers are not a homogenous group and Council will endeavour to reflect and consider the diverse needs, priorities and abilities within the community.
Community engagement	Council will continue to actively engage, consult and collaborate with people with disability, their families and carers as well as service providers to develop and deliver appropriate and relevant projects and services.

Legislative and policy context

The Community Access and Inclusion Plan assists local government to meet its obligations under Federal and State Government legislation, to protect and promote the rights of people with disability to live and participate in the community on an equal basis.

In response to its obligations under the Commonwealth Disability Discrimination Act 1992 and the Victorian Disability Act 2006, the Rural City of Wangaratta has in place a Community Access and Inclusion Plan.

The CAIP communicates RCoW's role in ensuring people of all abilities, including those living with disability, their families and carers are able to actively participate in community life and civic events; contribute to local government planning; and can assess services, facilities, sporting and cultural activities.

The CAIP is registered with the Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission and its implementation reported on in Council's Annual Report.

The relevant legislation and policies considered in this plan include:

International

- United Nations Convention on the Rights of Person with Disabilities 2006

National

- Disability Discrimination Act 1992
- National Disability Strategy 2010-2020
- Access for People with Disabilities – AS 1428

State

- Victorian Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006
- Victorian State Disability Plan 2017 - 2020
- The Victorian Disability Amendment Act 2012
- Victorian State Disability Act 2006
- Victorian Equal Opportunity Act 2010

Local

- Council Plan 2017 - 2021
- Municipal Public Health and Wellbeing Plan 2017 – 2021

In section 38 of the Victorian Disability Act 2006, the state government has identified four objectives that all Disability Action Plans should address to enable people with disability to fully participate in their communities.

These are:

- Reducing barriers to persons with a disability accessing goods, services and facilities
- Reducing barriers to persons with a disability obtaining and maintaining employment
- Promoting inclusion and participation in the community of persons with a disability
- Achieving tangible changes in attitudes and practices which discriminate against persons with a disability.

The Rural City of Wangaratta is committed to achieving these objectives.

To achieve our vision, we must be accessible to and inclusive of people with disability, and use our role to bring about improvements for people with disability throughout the municipality.

Rural City of Wangaratta, 2019

Development of the CAIP

To ensure that the Community Access and Inclusion Plan is relevant to the community's needs, consultation was carried out to identify current issues and trends around access and inclusion.

The Community Access and Inclusion Plan (CAIP) is informed by a review of the CAIP 2015 – 2017, Community Accessibility Survey results (2018) and workshops with community groups and the Accessibility Reference Group (2019). It is noted that gradual shifts in the perception of access and inclusion have occurred. The CAIP is designed to reflect current expectations and build on previous achievements.

The CAIP aligns with State and Federal government legislation and policy.

The consultation undertaken for the Community Access and Inclusion Plan identified six priority areas where community members requested improvements.

These were:

Parking	The number, location and size of accessible parking bays
Inclusion	Opportunities for inclusive activities and events and advocacy for access issues
Footpaths	Maintenance, connectivity, and accessibility
Transport	Better public transport links and networks which are accessible and affordable
Building access	Continue to improve access to buildings

Only 47% of people within the municipality live near public transport, compared to the state average of 73.9%

Themes and Actions

The Community Access and Inclusion Action Plan communicates RCoW's role in ensuring people of all abilities, including those living with a disability, their families and carers are able to actively participate in community life and civic events; contribute to local government planning; and can assess services, facilities, sporting and cultural activities.

The Action Plan has adopted the social model of disability. The social model identifies that many of the difficulties that occur for people living with a disability are the direct result of barriers imposed by the environment and not the disability itself.

The CAIP covers four key themes, each with an overarching statement. The themes reflect common issues of access and inclusion identified through community consultation.

The four (4) themes are:

1. Inclusion and Participation
2. Communication and Engagement
3. Civic Leadership and Attitudes
4. Accessible Environments

Each theme is broken down into objectives that have an explanatory aim and actions. There are twelve (12) objectives in total.

The actions represent a whole of council approach to improve access and inclusion throughout the community and informs all of councils decision making and assessment processes and plans.

The RCoW believes all actions taken to support access and inclusion of people with a disability, improves access and inclusion for all.
